Senior Class History

After completing eight years of grade school we thought ourselves to be almost ready for a throne on top of the world.

In September of 1951 four giggling girls and two wide-eyed boys signed their "John Henry" on the registration card as freshmen at Thorp High School. Now we find ourselves lowered and seated on the bottom bracket. Names listed on the enrollment cards were: Connie Muggerud, Ida Stacey, Iona Mitchell, Pat Roso, Donnie Tumbleson, and Jerry Gebur.

As we continue to build ourselves up, seeking a throne on top again, we find our enrollment for our sophomore year has been slightly decreased. Connie moved to Watertown and Ida decided to take an extended "life of leisure" and discard books, pencils, and studying. At the beginning of the second semester one more volunteer is added to our list of climbers. His name is Bill Palmer who hails from Clark.

Upon hitting the halfway mark we see that five comrades have decided to continue the journey of climbing the bank of success. In the early part of our junior year Bill Palmer found interests outside of school and left the rest of us to our solitude. Marks of interest to us in this year were the basketball tourneys, the junior-senior play, and the junior-senior banquet held at the Skyline Supper Club in Watertown.

Three valiant persons registered for the final step on our ladder of success. The companionship of Jerry Gebur was lost to Wallace High School when he decided to honor them by enrolling for his senior year of high school.

Batson tests, I. Q. tests, State "B" tourney, junior-senior play and banquet, Little "8" prom, Skip day, and commencement were the stable nails in the steps of our high and mighty senior year of climbing. Success and the end! We have finally accomplished our aim.

We, Pat, Iona, and Donnie, feel that our lives have been strongly influenced and enlightened through the achievements of climbing our secure ladder of finish and success.

From here, we leave the harbor, and indeed enter the deep! Our three lives molded through the efforts of many, are just beginning a new and vigorous research.

CHORUS

The chorus took part in several activities during the school year.

Ila Mae Christensen accompanied the group on the piano when they needed assistance.

At Christmas the chorus presented a contata entitled "The Chorus in the Sky" by Holton.

The week of February 14, the girls drew names for "heart sisters". A Valentine tea was served by Mrs. Clifford on Valentine's Day.

The girls made identical acqua gabardine skirts and weskits to wear on appearances.

April 15, the girls chorus entered the District IV music contest in Aberdeen. The entrance fee was taken from proceeds of the variety show. "When Song is Sweet" and "Work for the Night is Coming" were the songs sung at the contest. A III rating was received.
